Spiritual-Flesh Life In An Imperfect World

Spiritual Life

A Spiritual life is a spirit-soul created in a perfect spiritual body having all knowledge, living from love, which is life itself, and can live only from that perspective, with experiences strictly based upon love with no separation from God-Creation.

Flesh Life

The flesh life is the perfect spirit living within an imperfect flesh body-mind that in living in a current flesh awareness, having no knowledge from the flesh perspective, life experiences living in duality experiencing positive and negative perspectives seeing it as goodness-evil, while experiencing life in a false sense of separation from God-Creation.

The Awareness of the Perfect Spirit living in the imperfect world

The perfect spirit living in the imperfect world recognizes the existence of their own true self, a perfect spirit, and chooses to live from the perspective of love. Living experiences from the proper understanding not worldly understandings, building a knowledge base upon the experiences of duality and separation that simply is faith and trust in God. A passion to relive the oneness of Creation and do not see the duality that does not exist.
